

DOAJ IS GOOD FOR LIBRARIES AND RESEARCH ORGANISATIONS

DOAJ is supported by libraries, library consortia and research organisations from all over the world (doaj.org/members). This ensures that DOAJ stays in the public domain.

DOAJ was founded at a major research university. There are librarians on its Advisory Board and it partners closely with librarians to ensure data quality and relevance.

DIRECTORY OF OPEN ACCESS JOURNALS

DOAJ INDEXING

DOAJ helps you economize your open access publication funds. In order to grant funds, many funding organisations require that the journal in which the research will be published is a journal indexed in DOAJ. Use DOAJ to find eligible journals that fulfil the criteria for funding.

INCREASED SITE TRAFFIC

Levels of traffic to the website of a journal indexed in DOAJ typically increase threefold. If you publish your research in such a journal, your research will have greater visibility and more exposure through a wide distribution.

DOAJ HELPS PROMOTE OPEN ACCESS

Use DOAJ to promote open access within your organisation or to catalogue open access resources. DOAJ is a focal point to direct patrons to, and puts quality, peer-reviewed open access in the spotlight.

70% of journals in DOAJ charge no APC. In these times of budget cuts and contract negotiations, DOAJ can help you promote open access as the sustainable model.

DOAJ can help you with promotional material for you to use in the library and when talking to faculty and students. Contact us at feedback@doaj.org for more information.

DOAJ IS TACKLING THE PROBLEMS OF UNETHICAL PRACTICE HEAD ON

DOAJ is fully engaged and committed to combatting questionable publishers and questionable publishing practices, thereby protecting your researchers from becoming trapped by these journals.

Don't focus on blacklists. Blacklists propagate negative messages about open access. Focus instead on DOAJ, the white list, and show your researchers where they can publish.

DOAJ METADATA CAN BE USED (AND FOUND) ANYWHERE

DOAJ metadata is free. Incorporate DOAJ and metadata directly into your library portal with our widgets (doaj.org/widgets), OAI-PMH service or via the API. Use our RSS feeds or our lists of journals. Export a single CSV file with information about all the journals. DOAJ is OpenURL compliant.

All major aggregators, many research organisations and many university libraries already include DOAJ metadata in their products (doaj.org/faq#metadata).
